Thinking Out Loud

Orrin Lowell, attorney and one of the governing board of Placer Junior College, in an address before the Nevada City Rotary Club Thursday, discussed the democratic origin of appeasement in foreign policy. He found it typified as when we say of a contestant that he did his stint in the "hard way." Implied of course is the fact that too many people, too much of the time do things in an easy way.

This seeking for the easy way, is exemplified again in the fact that so many people with property, bequeath it to their children in trust. The children receive the dividends or interest, but they are not pemitted to handle the principal for fear they will lose it, and thus be put to the hardship of winning a place in the world by the hard way. Parents are prone to choose the easy and the safe way for their children instead of putting them on their own, to face life with a home training that enables them to meet life's challenge worthily.

In sports the easy way, is usually the best and most skilful way, a way acquired by long and arduous practice. However, every thinking man will agree with Mr. Lowell that we have carried the quest for the easy way for ourselves and our children to such lengths that the national fibre is softened. We have bowed down in worship of comfort, security, gadgets, push-buttons. It was the consideration of that way of life, the fear of disturbing it, as Mr. Lowell pointed out, that caused the late Prime Minister Chamberlain to throw Czecho-Slovakia to Hitler and return to announce proudly that "we havesecured peace in our time." It was the consideration for the easy way of life that caused the English to refuse the United States co-operation in balking Japan's invasion of Manchuria, that prevented measures to check Italy's outrages in Abyssinia. We could have proceeded alone, without the British co-operation, but we preferred the easy way.

But the easy way has become suddenly hard. We do not escape our responsibility in preserving world wellbeing. The forces that plunder are never sated. The evil wind veers toward us. We refused to spend an ounce of prevention now we must buy many a pound of cure. Once it was not our concern that small nations weltered in their own blood after the onslaught of international thugs. But it has now become very much our concern. This is the lesson read from Attorney Lowell's spirited appeal for a return to first things first. Justice, national and international; freedom for all the world as well as for us, and a return to those ideals that inspired our forefathers in their heroic struggle.

And let no one think that when the war is over we can settle back in complacency again, and remain spectators on the side lines, while other peoples struggle to their feet. When the canon cease, it is the people of the United States who must rush food, clothing and tools to the far ends of the earth. It is they who must lend gold with never a thought of repayment save in universal good will.

Whether we like it or not, we, the American people, every last one of us, are our brother's keepers. In an absolute sense, we have no other choice, no other alternative, except the one that Hitler gives us. Unless we are willing and eager that the standards of living in all the world shall rise, unless we are willing to aid mightily all nations in attaining our standards we shall all of us eventually sink to that low and brutal level which Hitler, or some later Attila, preprepares for us.

In another time of crucial significance, Abraham Lincoln in his second message to Congress said:

WE SHALL NOBLY SAVE OR MEANLY LOSE THE LAST, BEST HOPE ON EARTH.

The words reverberate and thunder through the corridors of time. Their meaning expands, breaking national boundaries, pervading and embracing all peoples, in this war, but far more important, in the peace to come.

Candidate For Congressional Post

Frank G. Finnegan

FRANK G. FINNEGAN, LOCAL ATTORNEY AND CIVIC LEADER, IS CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS

Frank G. Finnegan has announced his candidacy for Congressman from the Second District of California.

Mr. Finnegan was born in Alturas, Modoc County, and has spent practically all his life in this congressional district. He has been a practicing attorney for 12 years and is now practicing in Nevada City. He was formerly a partner of Hon. George L. Jones, the Superior Judge of Nevada County.

Mr. Finnegan has been a lifelong Democrat. He has been Chairman of the Democratic County Central Committee for four years, and is a member of the Democratic State Central Committee. He managed the Roosevelt campaign in Nevada County in 1926 and 1940 and organized the first chapter of Young Democrats in San Francisco during the first Roosevelt campaign.

The candidate will file for both the Democratic and Republican nominations and in doing this he hopes to receive support from the people of both parties who are opposed to the isolationist policy.

He is a graduate of the Hastings College of Law, University of California, where he worked his way through college as a night auditor for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. He is married and has one daughter, six years old, and owns his home in Nevada City.

He is president of the Nevada County Bar Association; president of the Board of the Nevada City Unified School District; City Attorney of the City of Nevada; Past Exalted Ruler of the Lodge of Elks; Past President of the Rotary Club; Member of the Native Sons of the Golden West; Member of the local Draft Board and Past Chairman of the Nevada City Chapter of the American Red Cross.

He is familiar with the problems of the lumbering, mining and agricultural interests of the district, having worked in lumber camps, mines and at farming.

His father, George B. Finnegan, was the sponsor in the 1913 California Legislature of the first anti-alien land law, prohibiting Japanese from owning land in California.

The candidate has made his decision to run after receiving pledges

CORONER HOLMES ASKS REELECTION

Ainsley M. (Andy) Holmes, coroner of Nevada County for the past four years has announced that he will be a candidate for re-election in the August primary.

Coroner Holmes is a veteran in that office, for he served the people of the county for 12 yeas as a deputy under Thomas M. Harris, and later for four years as coroner.

During his terms in office Coroner Holmes has fulfilled his duties in an efficient and praiseworthy manner, conducting investigations into accidental deaths and inquests competently and thoroughly, and his long years of experience has assisted other county officers notably in getting at the true facts in such cases.

In recent years Coroner Holmes has served as a member and secretry of the State Board of Funeral Directors and Embalmers, and is a member of the Coroners Association of California, of which he is a past president.

The candidate conducts two strictly modern and beautifully appointed mortuaries one in Grass Valley and one in Nevada City, thus affording every day facilities for instant service in the event of accidents involving fatalities, which must be investigated by the coroner. Coroner's inquests can be held with equal facility in either of the twin cities. This is regarded as an added service in a county such as Nevada.

During his long carrer as deputy coroner and coroner it never has been the practice of Mr. Holmes to scrimp in the matter of the burial of

City Purchases $2,000 In Victory Bonds; Plans For Fourth Considered

With all members present and taking a lively part in the proceedings, the city council at its meeting Thursday night accomplished considerable business.

Probably the most important issue was that of the claim of Ted Sigourney for approximately $900.

Sigourney's cause was presented by Attorney H. Ward Sheldon and from both Sheldon and City Attorney Frank Finnegan the council learned Sigourney, former city employee, had a valid claim to the $900 and it is probable the amount will be paid to Sigourney shortly.

It appears while Sigourney was operating the city's road patrol for the state he was paid approximately the same rate of pay he had been receiving while working on city streets. However, the state reimbursed the city at the rate of $1.50 per hour for Sigourney's work. So the payoff is the city must give Sigourney the difference between what he received while working on the state job and the amount paid the city by the state for Sigourney's services.

However, the council figured inasmuch as during that period the city furnished Sigourney with gas and oil to travel to and from work it would be only fair to deduct the price of the gas and oil from the amount of the claim.

A delegation from the Business and Professional Women's Club headed by Mrs. Isabel Hefelfinger, appeared before the council regarding a Fourth of July Celebration.

The BPWC, and the council concurred, believed a Fourth of July fete this year is essential. Councilmen Al Bates and Irvine Seaman were appointed by Mayor Hall to start the ball rolling on the Independence Day celebration plans.

Mrs. Elise DeMattei of the Nevada City Coordinating Council asked the city trustees to improve Pioneer Park and also appoint a man to supervise a play program during the summer months at the park.

A long debate followed, during which Mayor Hall stated the city is now receiving less revenue than it ever has since he has been a member of the council and he didn't think expenses should increase while revenue was decreasing.

"There really should be a caretaker the year round at the park", Hall commented, "but the fixed expense may be as much as supporting the library, which is about $1500 per year."

Councilman Bates suggested the paying him a nominal salary and remodeling the lodge as a living quartrs for him.

Bates and Councilman Seaman were appointed on a committee to work out a satisactory solution of the perplexing park problem.

A happy note was injected into the meeting when E. J. N. Ott, chairman of the recent salvage drive, reported $100 was netted from the metal obtained in the campaign.

The councilmen voted to donate $50 of the money to the local Red Cross Chapter and $50 to the United Service Organization. Ott expresed his thanks to all those who helped in the salvage drive and in turn the council gave Chairman Ott a vote of thanks.

The question of a lifeguard at the swimming pool then came before the councilmen. The application of Roland Garwood, guard last year, and William Pohley, resident of this community for the past four years and experienced lifeguard, were read.

The council decided inasmuch as Garwood performed his duties last year in a satisfactory manner he should be reappointed. His salary will be $100 per month.

The authorization of the purchase of $2,000 in interest bearing Victory Bonds was made by the councilmen at the meeting.

In commenting on the Fourth of July celebration, the council decided under no circumstances would a solicitation be made among local business firms for money for the celebration inasmuch as they have as big a burden as they can carry at the present time.

CHROME GROUP MEETS TONIGHT

A meeting of the Tri County Chrome Association, recently formed in Auburn and composed of chrome mine owners in Nevada, Placer and El Dorado Counties, will be held here tonight in the Chamber of Commerce quarters.

J. P. Hall of Auburn, president of the association, will preside over the meeting.

Matters of importance to the chrome miners will be taken up at the meeting and Erroll MacBoyle, executive of the Idaho-Maryland Mines Corporation and president of the state mining board, has been invited to attend.

AFL UNION TO SEEK CONTRACT

The Grass Valley AFL union at a meeting Friday night decided it will seek a bargaining agency contract with the Idaho-Maryland Mines Corporation and if the mining company officials refuse to negotiate an appeal will be made to the War Labor Board for an election.

The AFL union contends the recent action by the Mine Workers Protective League in renewing a contract it holds with the Idaho-Maryland was illegal and that the AFL represents a majority of the men employed at the properties.

LEAVES FOREST SERVICE

Ray Worthley, who had been in charge of the Tahoe National Forest warehouse, has resigned to go to the bay area to be employed on defense work. Paul Campbell has been named to succeed Worthley.

Mrs. C. C. Smoot of San Francisco, formerly Edna Tully of Nevada City has returned to her home after a three weeks visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Legg.

Caught in the Riffles

Mayor John Hansen of Grass Valley was embarrassed Saturday night when in the middle of the speech he was making at the Rice Bowl ball he suddenly forgot the next words. After a silence which seemed an enternity Hansen said: "I have forgotten the next words." This was followed by another long silence and then the Grass Valley mayor stated: "We better have the next speaker." Judging from the huge applause the Grass Valley mayor received when he walked from the stage the embarrassing incident certainly didn't hurt his popularity.

Bill Lee, former engineer of the Tahoe National Forest, has been called into the army. He reported June 1st. . . Hardly had the rumor started that Frank Finnegan would run for Congress than a movement started here for the organization of a Finnegan for Congress Club. The club is expected to be formed this week. . . . H. F. Sofge, local Chamber of Commerce secretary is a prolific purchaser of defense stamps. He buys stamps with all the money he derives from his egg business.

Russell Farley and Paul Viles, hunting antelope near Alturas, encountered something that may never happen again in a hundred years.

A fat buck antelope was caught in a coyote trap! Farley and Viles knew it wouldn't be right to take the antelope under such circumstances so while Farley held the animal's horns Viles managed to spring the trap. The antelope bounded away at a fast clip, apparently not hurt in the least by the trap.

For the first time since demonstrations began against the soliciting on city streets here by Jehovah Witnesses near violence occurred Friday.

From somewhere an egg was thrown and it struck the leader of the local Jehovahites on his head. Another egg was thrown at him when he immediately started for the city hall to seek protection.

A large number of Grass Valley High School students participated in the demonstration against the Jehovah Witnesses Friday. Singing patriotic songs and carrying banners denouncing the policy of the Jehovahites in flouting the flag, the demonstrators soon succeeded in causing the Watchtower solicitors to leave.

As one of the cars carrying a group of the Jehovahites left the curb in front of the National Market another egg was thrown, splattering over the windshield.

HARRY BRIDGES KICKS

Harry Bridges, the alien labor leader is like the married man who could not live with his wife and could not live without her. Bridges can't get along with the U. S. A. but does not want to leave it. He prefers to stay on, quarrel on and criticize our conduct of affairs as long as he is permitted. The order to deport him was not expected especially since Earl Browder was freed "in the interest of harmony." Harry Bridges faced with deportation intends that harmony shall become a din of discord and calls on his C. I. O. affiliates to go to the bat for him. He also admonishes the war workers of the country to prosecute the war as usual, not minding about him. This condescension is nice of Harry but ascribes not an atom of patriotism as the compelling motive of those who will continue to hit the topspeed in war production. If Bridges had but said the word the work would stop for him—the war and victory of little consequence so he intimates.

Attorney General Biddle found that Bridges was affiliated with communism and advocated the overthrow of our form of government by violence and force.

That he fomented class warfare and encouraged violent outbreaks close to civil war there was repeated evidence. It might have been in the interest of one class but how about all the rest of the American people and their interests? John Q. Public got his nose rubbed in the dirt the hardest by these strikes and riots and cities like San Francisco became plague ridden places avoided by all who could by-pass them.

There is no place in a democracy such as we are fighting for, for any alien or any self-appointed agitator to head groups committed to the breakdown of law and order. Call it communism or by any other name, the action does not square with true democracy which must provide its own cures and own methods for healing breaches anywhere in the body politic. We need no quack social medicine men like Harry Bridges to make America healthy. From indications his counter irritants brought out sores that were hard to heal. The war however has had a healthy effect and it is to be hoped that measures will be taken to prevent repetition of all those strikes which brought such joy to enemy observers in the critical days when fifth columnists chortled over demonstrations such as Harry Bridges takes credit for. Let's insist on and provide methods to settle labor disputes without symbols like Bridges. If wo do not, this kind of a person will have ambitions to become a second Hitler, a Joseph Stalin or some other savior of the masses. The soil of unrest precedes the mastery of those such seek to dominate. Unless the U. S. A. safeguards its future there will be a successor to fill Bridges' shoes. He really is unimportant compared to the tolerance which has permitted him to do his stuff here.

KEEP COOL

News in Rhyme Over KJBS
Written by Harley M. Leete, Jr.

Today we take a warning text,
For no one knows what's coming next.
There are some things that we do know:
The Alaskan assault's no random blow;
We know these acts by foe Japan,
Are part of a vicious master plan.
We know the Nippon nation needs,
Some solace as it slaves and bleeds.
This salve thei planes would fain provide,
By assault on our city in suicide ride,
Our army is ready—our navy, too;
Prepared to fight and to follow through.
Still it's possible the Japs will try,
For apparently all are anxious to die.
An excellent way to accomplish this end,
Is to attack the long shores our forces defend.
We may be wise, in expecting the worst,
To complete all our preparations first;
And then keep calmly, cheerfully cool,
Neither overly worried nor playing the fool.
Let's make sure that we've carefully planned,
To fight any fire with water and sand.
The best insurance we can find,
Is readiness of body and mind.
We must try our best to be physically sound,
So in emergency, we'll quickly be found,
Fit to fight for this free life,
Equal to bear our part in the strife.
To comport ourselves with common sense,
To battle, cool-headed, in self defense.
If Japs expect panic, that rank delusion,
Shall only add to their confusion.
Remembeing those who've fought and bled,
We'll grimly work and press ahead.
Much anguish shall we all be spared,
By obeying the rule of "Be Prepared!"

JOSEPH MARTIN FORMALLY FILES FOR TREASURER

Believing his background of business experience particularly fits him for the office, Joseph Martin of Grass Valley, has filed formal papers as candidate for the office of Treasurer and Tax Collector of the county of Nevada. His political card appears in this issue.

Martin, a resident of the Grass Valley area for six years, has gained wide acquaintance in this county as proprietor of "Joe's Place" on Mill Street. This business he opened five years ago and has conducted successfully, establishing himself as a solid citizen of Nevada County. Martin is a property owner of the county and tax payer.

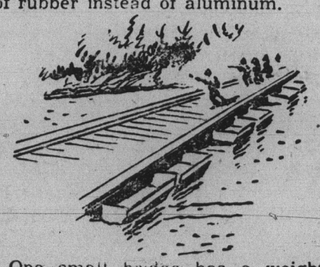

"Joe" Martin came to Grass Valley because climate and scenic conditions intrigued him. Pevious to locating in this city he served as an official of the City of Oakland, being an officer in the police department of that east bay metropolis. Following six years of this service he accepted a position as agent for the Rodeo-Vallejo Ferry Company and was in charge of finances of operation for six years. At the end of that period he accepted a promotion to the American Toll Bridge Company, serving collector for one year with headquarters at Vallejo and the Carquinez bridge office.

From the office of collector he was appointed Superintendent of the American Toll Bridge Co., with direct charge of operations and monies involved. Through his office Martin had the accounting of over a million dollars yearly, performing the duties in creditable manner.

If elected to the office of County Treasurer and Tax Collector, candidate Martin promises the people of Nevada County a conscientious performance of duties, an exact fulfillment of specified affairs of the office and an attentiveness that places the interest of the tax payer first.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Our army spells and pronounces it ponton, not "pontoon", as you do. Ponton bridges cost all the way from $15,000 to $700,000. The smaller bridge using individual metal pontons is pictured here. The largest ponton bridge is 1,080 feet long and is made of rubber instead of aluminum.

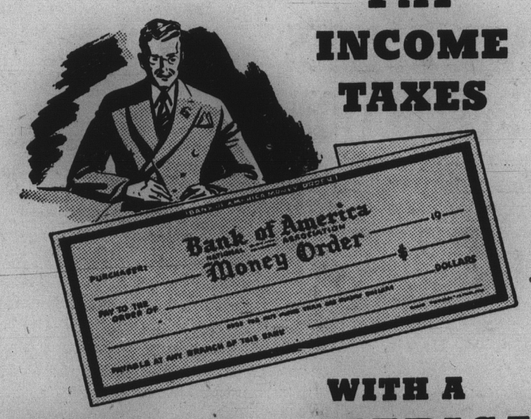

One small bridge has a weight capacity of 25 tons, using about 2,000 individual metal pontons. The smallest is used only to take troops over smaller streams. But whether our army uses the smaller or largest ponton, our engineers need plenty of them. If you and every American invests at least 10 per cent of income in War Bonds every pay day we can supply our fighting forces with these essentials to a victorious war.

RURAL SCHOOLS OF COUNTY CLOSED FOR SUMMER

All the rural schools of Nevada County have closed for the summer vacation except Blue Tent. This school will be in session until June 26th, for it is closed for a longer vacation during the winter months.

Appropriate closing day programs and picnics for the children were held in accord with the closing dates for the various schools. The teachers, children and parents of the Birchville and French Corral Districts united with the group at North San Juan where they all enjoyed their graduation program, lunch and play day.

There were graduates in all the schools except Pleasant Valley and Washington, where there were no pupils in the eighth grade.

The Tahoe National Forest fire guard training school ended Saturday at the Miller Ranch near Camptonville.

Supervisor Guerdon Ellis in his closing remarks advised his men that they were facing a fire season the equal of which has never been knewn in the history of the forest. Ellis urged his men to take a more active part in the prevention as well as suppression of fires.

The last day of the school was spent in the suppression of small fires under the direction of Fire Chief Marc Edmonds. The group was divided into ten crews and called upon to extinguish fires under actual conditions.

The fires were set without warning by Ranger Frank Meggers, who was also host to the camp this year.

Staff Engineer Gerald Mitchell, one of the judges, complimented the men highly on their performance. Mitchell stated that in years of fire control work he had never seen a group work as smoothly and efficiently.

Duration-ize your appliances with timely repair!

THERE are not going to be any more appliances manufactured for home use for an indefinite period. So we are going to be a lot more careful in the use of all things we own and we must keep in good repair, all of the mechanized equipment used on the Home Front. In the past, we could always buy new and better and more efficient equipment. BUT NOT now! That is not for the duration.

We must—all of us in the U. S. A.—Duration-ize our home appliances with timely repair. It is a wartime necessity. So to meet this necessity, this Company, and the manufacturers, and the dealers from whom you bought your appliances, have set up a service of repair. It means a check-up service to improve the operation efficiency of the household appliances. It means a repair service with factory-made replacement parts to restore appliances to efficient low-cost operation.

Take a look at your appliances today. Will they see you through the war? You will be wise to Duration-ize with timely repair.

of support from voters throughout the entire district and also because of the position the incumbent, Harry L. Englebright, has taken on vital measures affecting the conduct of the war. Mr. Englebright's record shows that he voted in June, 1939, to deprive the army of 1283 new planes, and on October 17, 1841, against arming merchant ships. He also voted against sending supplies to China and Great Britain by his stand against neutrality revision and against the Lease-Lend bill. His record also shows he voted against the extension of the draft; and against the seizure of vital military and naval supplies for defense, and although there was no record vote tken on Pensions for Congress, there is nothing in the record to show he opposed them when the bill was first passed.

Believing that the voters are entitled to a clear cut statement of policy, the candidate has pledged himself to support President Roosevelt, the Commander-in-Chief, until the Fascist enemies of Democracy are crushed and victory is won by the Democracies, and to do everything within his power to support him in the peace conference to insure a permanent international order following the war.

He has pledged himself to do everything in his power to strengthen Democracy at home and abroad; to preserve unity; to expose divisionists and appeasers at home; to keep the people informed on all matters that are not military or naval secrets; and to insist at all times upon the preservation of our democratic form of government and our constitutional rights.

He has also pledged himself to protect the rights of labor and work for more amicable relations between employer and employee; to work for the completion of the Central Valley Project and to bring to the attention of the government, the interests and problems of the great mountain, foothill and valley counties of his district.

indigents, particularly those reaching life's end at the County Hospital. The policy he has established and adhered to of foregoing burial in the common cemtery at the hospital in favor of some resting place more in keeping with the earlier standing of the deceased persons, and their oftimes notable public services, will be continued, he announced. This policy has been guaranteed by his purchase of cemeteries near the twin cities. Thus the more unfortunate are assured a dignified resting place outside the "potters field.'

Out of experiences gained in long years of serving the people and countless instances of concessions and charities to distressed families, the county coroner feels he is fully qualified and temperamentally suited for the office, which because of its nature, is closer to the people than perhaps any other in the county. He promises to continue to operate the office in the understanding and sympathetic manner which he believes is the people's due.

White Cloud Campground Soon Open To Public

The Tahoe National Forest's White Cloud campground will soon be open to the public. This popular forest service campground, which is only 12 miles east of Nevada City on the Tahoe Ukiah highway, has been very popular as a picnic ground for people within a radius of 200 miles. A suppression crew of fire men under the direction of Foreman Paul Campbell will be stationed at the campground and will be available for maintenance work when they are not required on actual fire prevention and suppression.

Ranger Paul Case of Nevada City calls the public's attention not only to White Cloud campground and it's facilities but to Skillman Flat camp ground situated beyond the Washington Junction on the Tahoe Ukiah highway. This campground is equipped with a modern and complete barbecue pit which was donated by the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce several years ago. This area is suitable not only for family groups but large fraternal organization picnics and is available for such purposes free of any charge.

A regular campfire permit issued by the forest service or their authorized agents is required in all these campgrounds.

ELMA HECKER IS CANDIDATE FOR TREASURER

Another new political card appears in this issue of the Nugget. It is that of Miss Elma Hecker. Miss Hecker thereby announces her candidacy for the office of Treasurer and Tax Collector of Nevada County. Miss Hecker is a native of Nevada City being 39 years of age, daughter of the late Reuben and Emily Josephine Hecker. She attended the local schools and Armstrong's Business College in Grass Valley.

Miss Hecker was employed at the Gault Bakery by P. G. Scadden, Karl Kopp, and at the Rickard Bakery and Candy store, for the late J. J. Jackson and later at the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

On the 10th of June, 1925, she was employed temporarily by William T. Garland, County Treasurer and Tax Collector during the illness of his deputy Anna Donnelly on the 26th day of July, 1925, Miss Hecker was then appointed as the regular deputy by Mr. Garland. From this date until August, 1926, when Mr. Garland resigned as the county treasurer and tax collector to enter into the banking business in Grass Valley she was Mr. Garland's chief deputy.

Frank Steel, deputy county clerk under the late George Coughlan was then appointed as the county treasurer and tax collector and immediately Mr. Steel appointed Miss Elma as his chie deputy, this being in 1926. Therefore Miss Hecker has been employed as deputy in the said office for a period of 17 years and on that record of actual experience Miss Hecker is asking for the vote of the people of Nevada County. At all times she has tried to be congenial in dealing with the public in the payment of the county warrants and in the payment of taxes. During Mr. Steel's recent illness she has taken the responsibility and with a great deal of credit to Mr. Steel, herself and for the county.

Miss Hecker has always been public spirited and worked in fraternal orders, civic committees, and as has been said one finds that she is ever willing to give of her time and efforts for others.

Member and Past Noble Grand of Neva Rebekah Lodge No. 119, I. O. O. F. Past Pocahontas and Past District Deputy of Ponemah Council No. 6, Degree of Pocahontas, having served as the Keeper of Records for 14 years, and also elected as First Great Trustee of the Degree of Pocahontas for the State of California at Santa Cruz. Due to her work in the business world Miss Hecker was unable to follow the request of the Great Council of Califonia to continue up the fraterial ladder in the work of the Degree of Pocahontas.

Since 1915 she has been very active in Trinity Episcopal Church, Nevada City, serving on the Altar Guild as secretary and treasurer for a period of 19 years and as the superintendent of the Sunday School for about 15 years. In this work which her many intimate friends term "Sunday School hobby" she has ever been mindful of the children and constant aim that the girls and boys attend some one Sunday School, not necessarily the one she was in charge of but that they should make some effort to receive some religious training in one or the other of the Sunday School classes in our city. Her efforts not to let a child be considered in any small form has made the Trinity Sunday School an outstanding school in the Sacramento Diocese and is recognized as such by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Noel Porter of Sacramento and father of the present rector, Cedric S. Porter.

If the people of Nevada County see fit to elect Miss Hecker she promises the same courteous and efficient service to the public in the future that has rendered in the past as the chief deputy, and promises to fulfill her duties to the best of her ability at all times remembering she is trying to serve the people of the county.

Phil Bradley, Jr. and Henry Bradley, sons of Phil Bradley, president of the Alaska Juneau Mine were guests of Mr. and Ms. George Legg Tuesday and Wednesday.

SOLDIER THANKS LOCAL RED CROSS FOR SWEATER

Nevada City Red Cross women work long hours to knit sweaters and other articles for the men in the armed orces of the country but occasionally a letter is received which gives them great satisfaction for the work they are doing.

Such a letter was received Saturday b Mrs. Belle Douglass. It read:

"I wish to thank your chapter of the Red Cross for the wool sweater I received today, and all the other boys that received them wish to express their thanks also.

"The sweaters were needed very much because where we are it is quite cool. We are located in the field and get a cool breeze day and night. At late night and early morning we have to wear our overcoats to keep warm.

"My home is in Cromwell, Conn., and I know the women home are doing all they can for the Red Cross. Some of the sweaters had the name of the person that knitted them pinned on them, but mine didn't so I'm thanking the chapter as a whole for it."
